Sizing Measurements:

- _____ HEIGHT Feet and inches or centimeters
- _____ WEIGHT Pounds, please (convert kg or stone)
- _____ LEG LENGTH/INSEAM (Measure while STANDING: from crotch to floor, without shoes or boots)

IMPORTANT NOTE: Your leg/inseam measurement is extremely important, so please be certain of accuracy

BODY STYLE Lean Medium Stout/Stocky

6 Basic SADDLE SIZE CHOICES: See website info for more guidelines
Please realize that this is an approximate guide, and that saddle seats may vary slightly, due to the handcrafting process and leather thickness

If you are in between sizes, and/or have large thighs/buttocks, we generally recommend going to a larger size saddle, so that you don't feel restricted in any way. Long legs also need larger seat size so that knee doesn't project too far forward and restrict natural angle/access to your balance point.

SIZES: Please remember that our buck rolls shorten seat room compared to normal saddles

- 1 Approx. 15.5" Seat; for Petite people, or small people who want to ride a tighter seat
- 2 Approx. 16" Seat: for Small people, usually 4' 9" - 5' 4"
- 3 Approx. 16.5" Seat: for people, usually 5' 3" - 5' 8" weighing approx. 125 - 160 lbs
- 4 Approx. 17" Seat: for people, usually 5' 6" - 5' 11" weighing approx. 165 - 200 lbs
- 5 Approx. 17.5" Seat: for people, usually 6' or taller weighing approx. 200 - 250 lbs

Ranch Roper seats cannot be larger than 17.5, due to thickness of fork and cantle
